WE PROUDLY DEDICATE

Students appreciate an instructor who performs his responsibilities conscientiously and endeavors to relate the depth of his knowledge, demonstrate the degree of his loyalty, and stand firm having expressed his position. From there students can respond in performance, with respect, and of their own sincerity.

The length of our acquaintance is short. Nevertheless his influence has touched the career of every student and promised this college a future worthy of our pride as alumni. It is with sincere affection that the Class of 1965 dedicates its annual to our friend, professor and dean,

ELMER L. PURYEAR

The College.

A sheltered community within a city;

Haven for the searching and insecure,

Or sterile wasteland devoid of purpose;

It exists suspended between the old and the new.

A living symbol which stolidly maintains:

"All our knowledge brings us nearer to our ignorance . . ."

(T. S. Eliot, "The Rock" Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.)

The City.

A bustling port
of the Tobaccoland complex
Mercantile in appearance, yet retaining the charm which stamps it as "Southern".
It is a city of contrast;
a microcosm in which steel girders and tinted glass assert a new superiority over flaking columns and impractical grace.

People.

Young and old,

They leave an impression;

Reminding us of what we have been,

And what we may yet become.

In recognition of their gifts,

We give of ourselves;

And the mutual respect which remains

Is never forgotten.

Academics.
A world unto itself,
Where "each venture
Is a new beginning,
A raid on the inarticulate
With shabby equipment always deteriorating.
The knowledge imposes a pattern and falsifies,
For the pattern is new in every moment
And every moment is a new and shocking Valuation of all we have been."

(T. S. Eliot, East Coker)
(Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.)

Ideas.

Old and new,

Realistic or absurd.

They are the beginning; or the end.

"Footfalls echo in the memory

Down the passage which we did not take

Towards the door we never opened . . ."

(T. S. Eliot, Burnt Norton)
(Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.)

Closeness.
"The moments of happiness —
not the sense of well-being,
Fruition, fulfillment, security or affection,
Or even a very good dinner,
but the sudden illumination —
We had
the experience but missed the meaning,
An approach
to the meaning restores the experience
In a different form,
Beyond any meaning we can assign to happiness. . . ."

(T. S. Eliot, The Dry Salvages)
(Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.)

Little things.

Routine things.

The never-ending trivia of meetings, and the moments of appreciation and fulfillment.

The welcome recognition of accomplishment
from an unexpected source,
and minor disappointments that motivate towards future success.

Small responsibilities which must be honored,
tiny pleasures that give great satisfaction —
A day, a career, a lifetime is made up of these.

"Now the light falls, leaving the deep lane
Shuttered with branches, dark in the afternoon —
In a warm haze, the sultry light
Is absorbed . . . by grey stone.
We shall not cease from exploration
And the end of all our exploring
Will be to arrive where we started
And know the place for the first time."

(T. S. Eliot, East Coker and Little Gidding
(Harcourt, Brace & World, Inc.)

The deans, the president, staff and faculty.
They are the other half which,
In retrospect, realize the capabilities,
Potential, and shortcomings of the whole
Which is college.

Dave Jensen, Vice President

Martha Huggin, Secretary

P. Stallings, C. Whipple, M. Harris,
R. Wilson, A. Robinson, C. Basher,
J. Click, J. Dunlap, S. Brantley, P.
Groves, C. Folar.

CABINET

The Student Cabinet consists of an executive committee composed of the President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and NSA coordinator, and of representatives from each of the dormitories and the day students. It has been vested with supreme legislative power, and therefore is concerned with all aspects of student life. The executive committee, under the direction of the President of the Cabinet, is responsible for the exercise of executive duties. These include enforcing legislation, supervising orientation, administering student activities funds, maintaining cabinet records, appointing committees and in other ways implementing the new Constitution, now one year old.

John Cockey, Treasurer

Kay McCulloch, NSA Co-ordinator

MEN'S JUDICIAL COUNCIL

The Men's Judicial Council functions as a judicial board separate from the Student Cabinet. It is composed of eight students elected by the male population of Greensboro College, and functions by and for these students. As a judicial board, this organization is not responsible for making regulations, but has original jurisdiction over all infractions of the social regulations or those rules which are in conjunction with the academic regulations.

WOMEN'S JUDICIAL COUNCIL

The Women's Judicial Council — the W.J.C. as it is called — is a body of women students working with and for all students. As an integral part of the student government, it needs the understanding, cooperation, and respect of each member of the association. The W.J.C. is a useful body through which and to which opinions and ideas may be directed. It functions as an organization responsible for jurisdiction over all infractions of the women's social regulations, and those rules related to the academic regulations.

JoEllen Stith, Chairman

HONOR BOARD

Lou Murray, Chairman

The purpose of the Honor System is to develop an atmosphere of responsibility and integrity on the Greensboro College campus. For the existence of harmony in a group, individuals must have respect for the goals and principles of the group as a whole and each individual must perform his share of maintaining such goals. Infractions of the Honor Code are expected to be brought to the attention of the Honor Board by the individual involved. Areas under the Honor Board are stealing, cheating and falsification.

STUDENT COURT OF APPEALS

The Student Court of Appeals is the only new judicial innovation created under the 1964 Student Government Constitution. It was established to insure the rights of the accused in all cases heard by the Men's and Women's Judicial Councils and the Honor Board. It is composed of eight members: two sophomores, three juniors, and three seniors, all of whom are elected by the student body. The Chairman is elected by the court members.

At the close of its first full year of operation, the members of the Court feel that its purpose has been carried out successfully. Along with the rest of the new Student Government, the Court did experience some growing pains, but the experience has been invaluable in laying the groundwork for the future. It is now felt that the major adjustments have been made and the Court is ready not only to help those students who need its services, but to uphold the dignity of the lower courts.

The importance of the Student Court of Appeals cannot be stressed too much. The decisions of the Court are final except in cases of suspension or expulsion; therefore its decisions must be liberal and well-founded. It is hoped that the future members of the Court will profit by the experience of this year's Court, and will continue to build on the groundwork prepared this year.

First row: M. Chaffin; D. Jackson; J. Lawing; B. Byrd. Second row: J. Stephenson; B. Hagen; Ned Farster, Chairman—Not Pictured.

Sue Black, Chairman

PRESIDENT'S ACTIVITIES COUNCIL

The President's Activities Council is a body composed of the presidents of all permanent campus organizations, and is presided over by the President of the Student Cabinet. This organization, which meets once a month, provides the various organization heads with an opportunity to present and discuss the internal problems of their organizations, and therefore provides a direct link with the Student Cabinet.

STUDENT NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

Penny Peele, President

The Braxton Craven Chapter of the Student National Education Association is a branch of the North Carolina Education and the National Education Association. Its membership is open to students who plan to enter the teaching profession, regardless of the level or area of teaching preferred. The primary aim of the association is to provide for its individual members opportunities for professional growth and stimulation, and to better prepare each member for future teaching experiences.

The programs presented at the monthly meetings are directed at the various levels of instruction represented by the membership of the club. These programs feature visits by guidance counselors, superintendents, panel discussions, and speakers from related areas, such as special education, reading, art, and physical education.

A student convention held in Raleigh each fall is attended by the president and elected delegates. In the spring Miss Representative Future Teacher is elected to represent the association along with the president and elected delegates at the Annual NCEA Convention.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP CABINET

Pat Jones, President

The Student Christian Fellowship Cabinet plans and carries out religious activities and functions for the entire campus. Being an interfaith body, the SCF attempts to present some aspect of interest for everyone on campus . . . regardless of religious preference.

The main theme for this year has been "Outreach Enlargement" with a concentrated emphasis on an evaluation and revision of the over-all goals and purposes of a campus-wide religious organization.

Chapel Choir is one of the functions of the Music Committee of the Student Christian Fellowship. Membership is voluntary and is open to all interested students. The choir contributes to the Thursday morning worship services in Finch Chapel and to special programs throughout the year. Endeavoring to lead the congregation in a more worshipful experience through music, the choir does not "perform" but expresses praise and devotion to God.

CHAPEL CHOIR

Linda Borker, Accompanist; Ron Bray, Director.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION CLUB

Mary Corr Johnson, President

KAPPA CHI

First row: L. Murray, B. Spencer. Second row: R. Roberts, S. Knitter, B. Wombough, A. Schlesinger, President. Third row: E. Mathews, M. Sills, G. Delamater, Chaplain Stanton, Advisor; R. Weeks.

Kappa Chi serves the Greensboro College campus as the pre-ministerial fraternity. Its purpose is to bring to the students who feel a special calling to do the work of God into a fellowship with others. This group exists to serve the campus in any area in which aid is desired.

Conquest, the publication of the fraternity, has as its objective: to give to its readers a variety of articles covering a wide range of controversial topics. These articles are submitted by the members of Kappa Chi and students at the College, as well as from other campuses.

CHAPEL COMMITTEE

Dr. Raymond Smith and Dean Donald Stanton lead the Chapel Committee. This committee consists of students, professors, and administrators. The inspiring programs and speakers for Tuesday and Thursday Chapel services are formulated by this group. This committee also works with the Concert-Lecture Committee in order to co-ordinate the two agendas.

STUDENT CENTRE BOARD

The Student Centre, now two years old, is one of the most frequented buildings on the G. C. campus. Here students may gather informally to watch T.V., play cards, dance, or just relax. The building contains individual offices for campus publications, a private kitchen and supper room, areas for men's and women's student government, a post office and mail room, and the ever popular book store and adjoining snack shop.

Many social activities, such as the Valentine's Day Party and combo parties, have been organized and coordinated by the Student Centre Board, which has complete supervision of such functions.

Sharon Eller, President

First row A. Plaster (Vice President), K. Bray, A. Reed, C. Bosher, E. Pugh, L. Thomas. Second row: J. Cowan, J. A. Jackson, B. G. Cain, J. Wallace, D. Garrison. Absent: J. Litton, J. Cockey.

Clockwise: D. Oakley, R. Harbaut, P. Glensan, J. Harris, C. Craver, G. Brower, M. Harry, C. McConnell, M. Stane, A. Howland, P. Baker, B. Foil

The Howdy Dance . . . Halloween Combo Party . . . monthly events featuring combos such as the Monzas . . . are only part of the functions of the SOCIAL LIFE COMMITTEE this year. This committee coordinates activities between the Epsilon Lambda Sigma and Iota Lambda Sigma Societies as well as financing the Christmas Dance, the Freshman-Sophomore Dance, and the Junior-Senior Dance. It also partially finances May Day Weekend.

One of the culminating social life events on the campus is Midwinter's Weekend. This weekend featured combo parties, a film, and favors by which to remember the weekend . . . appropriately made a winter wonderland by one of the year's heaviest snows.

Jayne Anna Culbertson, President

SOCIAL LIFE COMMITTEE

ORIENTATION COUNSELORS

One of the most vital and exhausting tasks of the Orientation Committee, that of familiarizing new students with all aspects of campus life, is the responsibility of the Orientation Counselors. These students, selected from the rising junior and senior classes, assist new students during Orientation Week, and thus help prepare these students for assuming a responsible position on the campus.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega, an honorary dramatic fraternity, recognizes students who excel in college dramatics. Its meetings provide opportunities for the members to discuss techniques of play production and interpretation.

First row: Nancy Frick, Susan Beasley.
Second row: Susan Wells, Bill Hagen, Joe Rogers.

First row: P. Wright, J. Rogers, N. Frick, P. Armfield, S. Wells, M. V. Compton, R. Roberts. Standing: A. Rogers, H. Levin, K. Lowson, D. Hendershot, T. LoBisco, J. Lifton, S. Scott, B. Hagen. Not pictured: S. Wagner, A. Stevenson, L. McKenzie, S. Beasley.

Mr. Griess, Director

Jeanne Topping, Secretary; Ned Forster, President; Dave Herscher, Vice President.

G.C. PLAYERS

The G. C. Players is a campus organization open to all students interested in drama. The Players have produced a wide variety of theatrical productions this year, including The Diary of Anne Frank, which showed historical realism. Royal Gambit was a moral tragi-comedy comparing Henry VIII with the common man, and the three one-acts, No Exit, The Sandbox, and The Chairs, brought the new existentialism in theatre to Greensboro College.

MODERN DANCE

Modern dance is a means of communication through which the dancer conveys through movement the most intangible emotional experiences. The movement is abstracted to express in aesthetic form human drives, desires, and emotions. The dancer leads the spectator to develop the idea with the help of his personal associations, reminiscent of mood or actual experience. Members of the club learn the basic techniques, and in addition are introduced to advanced work in the art by participation in the spring recital.

Gayle Coleman, President

First row: J. Lunsford, S. Napier, J. Purdue, J. Scoggins, J. Price, W. Willingham. Second row: C. Byrd, E. Kelly, V. Potter, A. Stevenson, S. Kyles, J. Smoak, J. Meredith, N. Hamrick, S. Wagner.

DAY STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

All non-resident students attending G. C. are members of the Day Students' Association. Through this organization day students can establish lines of communication with resident students and campus activities. An annual event which the Day Students' Association sponsors is the campus-wide Christmas Dance.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The college student of today finds he can no longer devote his interests strictly to the college community. In this modern world of space, missiles, and political unrest, he must extend his interests to include the problems of other nations. He must learn how these problems might affect him as a present citizen and as a future leader of our country.

The International Relations Club is an organization which endeavors to educate the students of Greensboro College about the affairs of the world as well as train them to take their places as useful citizens. With the aid of Dr. Marvin L. Skaggs, advisor, the I. R. C. attempts to present stimulating programs which provide a deeper understanding of world affairs.

Yang Moon Lee, Martha Hutson, Barbara Byrd, Barbara Stanbeck (President), Lynda Thomas, G. Ownby.

PSYCHOLOGY AND SPECIAL EDUCATION CLUB

The Psychology and Special Education Club is open to all students of Greensboro College and interested persons of surrounding colleges and communities. Throughout the year outstanding speakers in the fields of psychology and special education are invited to the campus. These speakers encourage further interest in these fields and advance the knowledge of current studies and theories in both areas. Among the speakers this year were Dr. John Freeman, associate director of the Parapsychology Laboratory at Duke University, Dr. Harold H. Anderson, a research professor in psychology at Michigan State University, Dr. Kenneth Clark of the City College of New York, and Dr. Clarence Leuba of Antioch College in Ohio.

BETA IOTA OMEGA

Beta Iota Omega was formed in 1961 as an organization interested in promoting the areas of science, with special emphasis on the biological sciences. The club is campus-wide in scope, and open to all students who are scientifically oriented. Beta Iota Omega serves as a supplementary aid to the work and research of the Biology and Science departments.

For the G. C. students whose mother or grandmother (or great grandmother!) attended Greensboro College goes the privilege of belonging to the G. C. Daughters. In regular meetings held twice each semester this group studies the history and customs of G. C.

GREENSBORO COLLEGE GLEE CLUB

When one combines fun, fellowship, teamwork, a love of music and a desire to learn more about it, the result is the Greensboro College Glee Club! After the hard work of "singing off" music, worthy members are privileged to tour the country representing Greensboro College. At the completion of the Spring Tour, the Glee Club during the past fifteen years will have given over 300 concerts in cities of ten states along the eastern seaboard. Through the years our tours have brought memories from the "moon over Miami" to our debut in Town Hall in New York City. Big plans for the Spring Tour include again crashing the "Big City" and perhaps visiting the World's Fair. Important performances on the Glee Club itinerary this year include home concerts in Odell, singing for local civic clubs, Religious Emphasis Week, and traditionally concluding the year by singing at the Baccalaureate Service.

Mr. McDonald, Advisor; Ron Broy, President

MUSIC EDUCATION CLUB

The Greensboro College Music Education Club is composed of those students planning to teach music. During the year, guest speakers present talks on different phases of music in the public schools, and members relate their experiences in practice teaching. The Greensboro Chapter, #19, has participated actively in the National Music Educators Conventions, which are held in different locations of the United States each year.

VOCAL ENSEMBLE

A small mixed vocal group which performs all periods of music, the Vocal Ensemble is composed of music and liberal arts students who gain membership through audition. Singing at various clubs, making television appearances and giving campus concerts, this group serves as a public-relations agent as well as an example of the fine quality of the Greensboro College Department of Music. One of the main projects of the Vocal Ensemble is supporting and participating in the various operas presented at the College.

Dean Wold, Director, Cheryl Hopkins, President

G.C. CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

Each Tuesday and Thursday the G. C. Chamber Orchestra is heard in rehearsal. Music students, interested liberal arts students and townspeople participate in the performances of this group. A chapel program each semester is given for the student body as well as a formal concert each semester. A feature of the Spring concert is the performance of student soloist with the orchestra.

To stimulate a greater interest and participation, co-ordinate the activities of the Men's Athletic Association and the Women's Recreation Association, and manage the programs of recreational nature are the major goals of the Athletic Commission of Greensboro College. The program is designed to promote ideas of health and good sportsmanship among students on campus throughout the year.

In order to stimulate interest on the part of both men and women students, the Commission has organized a system of brother-sister teams this year. This new system has provided for the establishment of a co-educational program, which has included a bridge tournament, dances in the gymnasium sponsored by the brother-sister teams, doubles in tennis, table tennis, shuffleboard, badminton, and a partner free throw contest. The results of this new system have brought women students into the football, basketball, volleyball, and softball tournaments sponsored by the M.A.A., and men have supported their sister teams in their activities.

The main social event of the year in which the Athletic Commission takes an initiating role is the annual Christmas Dance, which is the highlight of campus social life for the pre-holiday festivities.

ATHLETIC COMMISSION

Jack Fields, President.

C. Kivett, President; P. Falliard; T. White.

F. Clarke; R. Vann, President; F. Bumgarner.

MEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Men's Athletic Association sponsors many sports events as well as intramural games, such as baseball, basketball, track, football, volleyball, and swimming. Both team and individual tournaments are held, and trophies are presented to the victors at the close of the year.

One of the highlights of the year's activities is the North-South basketball game. This game is always high on the list of student functions and pits those men students from north of the Mason-Dixon line against those from the south of it.

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION

The Women's Recreation Association provides a well-rounded program of recreational activities for Greensboro College women and complements the Physical Education program. In recent years the program has experienced great improvement. With the addition of individual events such as horseshoes, badminton, fifty mile swim, the program has become more complete. Along with these events to supplement the program, there are team sports such as basketball, volleyball, and softball.

AQUABELLES

The Aquabelles are a group of women students who have shown through faithful practice and excellent performance that they appreciate and excel in the art of swimming. They depict underwater beauty in motion as their lithe figures slide through the sapphire water with clear bubbles tracing their paths. With perfect timing and agility, they demonstrate figure eights and flower formations. Their lovely Spring water show delighted everyone who attended. This show is the major performance of the group during the year. They also perform at the Fall Parents Weekend. This skillful group of girls meets once a week to enjoy the water, brush up on individual water stunts, and practice for their performances. Many hours of hard work are spent in preparing for the year's events.

GYM SUPERVISORS

The flurry of activity which goes on behind the scenes in the gym is rarely recognized by a majority of the students on campus. Yet it is through the daily efforts of a small group of students, assisted and directed by Coach Ariail and Miss Taylor, that the minor tasks essential to the maintenance of a successful sports program are organized and carried out. Such facets of the intramural program as scheduling events, officiating and scoring of contests, and otherwise insuring a strong sports program at the College, are the responsibility of the Gym Supervisors.

INTRAMURALS

The 1964-65 intramural season at Greensboro College was a rather disappointing one to those who enjoy a tight race. This was a season which saw last year's third place Wolverines become a recognized power. It was a year which saw the Trojans plagued by many injuries to valuable players. It saw the Hornets lose many key players and have to rebuild. It watched the Spartans roll to their third consecutive basketball title. But most of all it was a year of great participation and fervor.

The year began with all teams having high hopes of winning the overall victory trophy. As Football began, it was clear that it was not going to be a very high scoring affair. The Wolverines, with the fine combination of Gambell and Cockey, were the first team to ever go undefeated and untied in league play.

In ping pong, again it was Mr. Gambell who took all the glory. Art finished first followed by Eddie Smith, Barry Coin and Lou Murray.

The Spartans have always been noted as the team to beat in Basketball, and this year proved no exception. The Spartans, led by Dick Kenner and Les Wicker, had a perfect, undefeated record. The championship game was a repeat of last year's, with the Trojans trying to knock off the Spartans. But again the Spartans proved too strong, and rolled to a 68-53 victory over the Trojans.

With the graduation of John Wanzenried, the Physical Fitness Award was up for grabs. Two Wolverines, both new students this year, tied for first place. George Raschen, a transfer from Duke, and Dick Proseus, a freshman, were accorded the most physically fit male students at G. C.

By early March the Wolverines were in first place in Volleyball, followed closely by last year's champs, the Hornets.

With the lead that the Wolverines had in total points by mid March, it seemed evident that they would go on to win the overall championship by the largest margin ever. Captains Ira Barnett, Howard Levin, Maya Harlow and Lou Murray deserve a great deal of credit for their fine job of team participation. Thanks are also in order for the entire Athletic Commission, and especially to the president of the M.A.A., Charlie Kivett, for the fine job they did in scheduling and organizing the entire sports program.

The 1964-65 coge ball tournament resulted in a 2-0 victory by the Trojans over a determined, but outnumbered, team of Spartanettes.

With the explosive combination of Les Wicker and Dick Kenner, the Spartans closed out a brilliant basketball campaign (8-0) with a crushing 68-53 victory over the challenging Trojans in the championship game on February 19.

Greensboro Generals star Bobby Boucher, here on the defensive against a tough Jacksonville team, demonstrates his skill before enthusiastic supporters of G. C.'s Project Spirit.

A 0-0 deadlock between the Sportons and Trojans opened the 1964-65 football season.

The Wolverines rolled to a perfect (6-0) football championship after defeating the hard-fighting Sportons 20-8 on October 30.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Don Conway, Chairman

Seated: M. Morgan, T. Bourne. Standing: S. Briscoe, L. Wright, R. Weeks.

The Publications Board wants each student to have the most interesting and informative reading material possible in the four campus publications — The Echo, Collegian, Lyre and Handbook. The editors and business managers of these publications, together with the Assistant to the President, the Dean of Students, and the faculty advisors, compose this representative board.

The "Pub" Board Chairman serves as a direct link between the publications and the Student Cabinet. It is also the responsibility of the board to supervise elections, keep records, set policies, and advise whenever necessary on the operations of the publications. Each spring there is a publications banquet at which awards are given to outstanding members of the publications staff.

Mr. Weaver; Mr. Ackley; Mr. Wilson; Dr. Long; D. Herscher; A. Contrrell; J. Johnstone.

LYRE

Once upon a time in the mythical land called college, a magazine which for want of a better name was called the Lyre, not to be mistaken with liar. According to the catalogue it was sometimes published four times annually. In the years which are now long gone by, either an editor, or staff, or material, or money could not be found for this small, unassuming publication which was considered by more than one person in college, a luxury.

Then came the year 1964-1965, when for the first time in many a year, a religion major became the editor of the Lyre, rather than an English major, and lo and behold, faith was abundant, and the money to publish the magazine was found under the chapel.

It is hoped, quite fervently, that those who continue to attempt to publish the Lyre in the future will fight to get it published not only for the good impression which it makes, but also for its link with the reality of life.

HANDBOOK

Trisha Bourne, Editor

Freshmen are well acquainted with this informative publication, for it is an ever-present guide during their first week on the Greensboro College campus. It is the source of social regulations on which new students are tested. The HANDBOOK also serves as an introduction to student government, student leaders, and G. C.'s numerous organizations. It contains hints about the customs and traditions unique to the campus community. Returning students welcome this attractive booklet, as it is their guide to constantly changing policies.

THE COLLEGIAN

Dave Herscher, Editor-in-Chief

The campus newspaper is a delicate fusion of ideas with mechanics. The Editors, in weekly planning sessions, determine the course of ideas for the next issue. Then overview finds expression in news story, editorial, feature story, column, cartoon, or picture. Once the deadlines are met, technicalities are the chief concern in the COLLEGIAN office—proofing and retyping copy, laying out the ads and articles, delivering dummy sheets to the printers, final proofing at the printers, then placing papers in the post office boxes for campus circulation. But by this time new assignments have already been made, half of another issue's articles have already been written, the vicious cycle has already well begun another hectic turn on the next issue of the campus newspaper.

The COLLEGIAN, although its reading public includes faculty, administration, trustees, advertisers, a number of other colleges, and a few subscribers, is primarily a student newspaper—of, by, and for the students of Greensboro College.

The COLLEGIAN as campus newspaper means something different to each person who has any contact with it—editor, reporter, columnist, advertising staffer, or reader. It provides a medium whereby various students have the opportunity to voice their opinions as representative of or distinctive from the student mass. It gives recognition to name, event, personality, but, more than this, it recognizes student ideas—the ideals, strivings, and criticisms of tomorrow's young citizenry and community leaders.

The COLLEGIAN staff tries to do a little more than simply recognize student lack of interest and initiative in areas ranging from theatre to politics. Various staff writers orient their columns or articles towards the purpose of informing and stimulating the student body on various issues with which they should actively concern themselves. Both campus politics, highlighted by the student government revision this year, and state and national political issues, focussed on the 1964 election year, are chief concerns of the Editorial Staff.

And then there are some people who just won't co-operate when it comes to posing for a yearbook picture!

Mimi Morgan and Sandra Briscoe

From "Autumn to May", as the song goes, so the job of compiling a yearbook continues with more opportunity for frustration than relaxation. And even after the last picture has been taken (often after a series of exasperating failures), and the last piece of copy has gone to the printer, there is still the period of anxious waiting while engravings are made and type is set.

Then, early in May, "the book" arrives — to be excitedly examined for a few days — only to be shelved for more important matters. Meanwhile, the staff, which has carefully nurtured the book from blank "dummy" to hard-bound volume, again prepares the groundwork for the following year's staff.

It won't be perfect, for nothing ever is. But then, neither is the year it represents. Each attempt, idea, relationship, or failure, from new Constitution to 1965 Echo — is a fragment which completes the panorama of Greensboro College—1965.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

The Xi Chi Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity, was chartered on the Greensboro College campus in the Spring of 1964, after a year's duration as a local fraternity. The fraternity was founded at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania, and rests solidly on the principles of Leadership, Friendship, and Service.

The local chapter has conducted a wide variety of service projects during the year, including the administration of a used-book exchange, assistance with luggage for incoming women students, and a letter-mailing service. A P O enjoys a fine reputation of always being available with assistance for any deserving need on the campus and in the community.

The social program of the fraternity is fulfilled by such events as pinning ceremonies, trips to the beach and mountains, occasional parties, and the highlight of the year, a "car smash."

NATIONAL STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The National Student Association is an organization made up of approximately 400 universities and colleges in the United States. It was created to serve the long existing need for a representative intercollegiate organization designed to serve the American student community.

Among the activities sponsored by NSA on our campus are Brotherhood Week, a Student Responsibility in Higher Education project, student-faculty forums, a human relations seminar, an international affairs seminar, and visits by foreign students.

STATE STUDENT LEGISLATURE

The State Student Legislature functions as an opportunity for students interested in government and politics to exercise their opinions on pertinent issues. Meeting in Raleigh for a three day session, the G. C. S. S. L. and students from colleges throughout North Carolina hold a mock legislative session. Student officials are elected, bills passed and resolutions made which are referred to the N. C. State Legislature.

SENIOR MARSHALS

The senior marshals serve in the capacity of ushers for college functions. These functions include commencement exercises, alumni meetings, and the concert-lecture series. In conjunction with the senior class officers, the marshals are in charge of the cap and gown ceremony that takes place in the spring. The marshals also serve as ushers at the Historical Book Club Meeting held on campus each year.

The chief marshal is chosen by the members of the rising senior class. The Dean of Students and the chief marshal choose the other marshals.

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA

Alpha Kappa Gamma is a National Honorary Fraternity standing for serviceable leadership among women. This organization was founded on May 12, 1928, at Queens College, Charlotte, North Carolina. The Eleanor Roosevelt Circle was installed on the Greensboro College campus on May 16, 1964. The purpose of AKG is to foster high ideals and set up high standards for those women who have proven themselves most eminent in constructive leadership among their fellow students. In the selection of active members the candidates must have shown strength in at least one of the following areas: scholarship, athletics, campus leadership, or social leadership.

WILSON

Every year you return and it's always the same,
Nothing is new and nothing is old.
The long, barren winter interlude fades when you arrive,
Time slackens and loses its phases, the salty sea air greets you and
You remember with nostalgia days spent at the beach and
Every year you return and you're not the same.
Time has gone and time has come.
You resist and comply, and even though you'd like to have another
Hour-glass to watch your dreams and even though you'd like to have class,
For the moment it is better to remain barefoot and carefree
With no place to go. In retrospect, you will know.

STUDENT LIFE

FALL

It never seems to change.
The faded red brick and gently sloping lawn
are ignorant of time.
One day melts into another;
a year passes;
Then two, three and finally four.
Each fall is a beginning . . .
and an end.
A brief epoch which explodes in beauty;
Then fades into the eternal cycle of another year.

Every year they arrive; vibrant, well-pressed, and bursting with enthusiasm which seeks only the appropriate direction. Some fail in their search, and each activity becomes an exasperating restraint on the imagined satisfaction derived from greater deeds. Others plod deliberately through the routine of freshman testing and purchase of books. And a few carefully consider their objectives and obligations, withstand the rigors of this initiation to a new way of life, and eagerly accept the difficult challenge which will shape them; and in turn be molded to their desires.

A sharp tang in the air, mingled with the crunch of newly fallen leaves, marks
the arrival of October.
Activities, academic and social, permeate the affairs of each individual.

Through the insight of a few, an exciting sport was closely integrated with campus life, and Project Spirit for 1965 reaped visible benefits for ice hockey enthusiasts and their Greensboro team.

Shakespeare, immortal through four centuries, visited the campus on October 14, and the skillful interpretation of Twelfth Night by the Helen Hayes Repertory Company scored another triumph for the 1964-65 Concert-Lecture Series.

Election fever swept the nation long before November 3, and within the campus political factions sprouted and rallies jostled for position in every imaginable and available space. A mock election was held, speakers were engaged, and heated debates over current issues became forums for the forwarding of political platforms. While Goldwaterites insisted "In your heart you know he's right", and Johnsonites chanted "LBJ for the USA", political observers waited, surveyed, speculated and waited some more. Election night came soon enough, and as usual, a carnival atmosphere prevailed. The returns came in, and in the aftermath of popcorn and empty Coke bottles, it became all too clear that in their hearts, a great many voters weren't quite sure who was right.

Action of a different sort enveloped the Rec Hall between November 10-14, when the G. C. Players presented The Diary of Anne Frank. The presentation, starring sophomore Suzanne Wagner in the title role, ranged in emotion from sympathetic pathos (above left) to uncontrollable anger (right). Also moving towards greater achievement and participation was the International Relations Club, and with a statewide convention of ten I.R.C. clubs on November 14, a year-old idea for re-activating the North Carolina I.R.C. clubs became a reality. With the advent to Thanksgiving vacation, thoughts turned to term papers and the forthcoming whirl of Christmas activities. And, after a few hours of frantic evacuation, an oppressive stillness pervaded the campus.

WINTER

A chill wind full of promises sliced through clutched Chesterfields and open parkas, and the air filled with powdery flakes, which increased in density until the spruces beside Greensboro dorm drooped with their burden. Serious evaluation by the SCF, intended to improve campus participation, continued to gain support and momentum in December. Herman Gressieker's Royal Gambit, presented on the 16 and 17, afforded those who attended an unusual interpretation of Henry VIII and humanism through the ages. Even the serious business of student government was enveloped by the buoyant spirit of Christmas, and each individual responded in a special way, extending a warm tie which briefly erased all differences with a genuine desire for "Peace on Earth, Good Will to All Men".

All too soon the vacation is over.

The grind begins in earnest now,
And for three weeks the lights burn late into the night. The routine becomes unbearable . . . Breakfast . . . study . . .
class . . . Chapel . . . study . . . lunch . . .
class . . . dinner . . . and study some more.
For one week BUSY and STUDY signs brighten silent halls . . . Then it's over. Good or bad, it's time to let off steam, pull the pieces together, and look ahead to a new semester.

February . . . a new month, brightened by snow and thoughts of a new and better semester. It was a month of evaluation . . . moral and physical. Religious Emphasis Week, with guest lecturer Dr. Robert G. Tuttle, challenged thoughts on resentment and faith, while student evaluation began with the N.S.A. survey concerning classification, objectives, and attitudes. The Student Cabinet met with the Student Life Advisory Board (lower right, opposite page) in an attempt to improve relations and discuss pertinent problems.

For the second year the impact of an evaluating committee was felt by the campus, as thirteen visitors arrived on the twenty-first to examine the education program. On the eighteenth, a delegation of students traveled to the state capitol in Raleigh to join the State Student Legislature in debating pertinent issues of the day.

Where there's smoke there's fire . . . so goes the slogan of the Student Centre as six fire trucks came to the rescue of a smouldering mop.

Gaiety to the tune of a brassy combo and a Queen of Hearts made Valentine's Day a memorable event for the traditional Freshman-Sophomore dance.

Adele Addison brought a special grace and charm rarely seen by the campus audience on March 16. With purity of tone and a stage magnetism which demanded a standing ovation, Miss Addison indeed was a regal finale to the 1964-65 Concert-Lecture Series.

Alexander I. Zinchuk, Counselor to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, addressed the International Relations Club on March 18.

As the first crocus opened to the March wind, a young girl's fancy turns to spring fashions . . . so another successful Irving fashion show helped to empty the bank accounts of many co-eds. Likewise, certain young men's fancy turned to pranks . . . with an old commode that never had it so good as that special day in the bookstore.

The clatter of hammer and nails was again heard in the Rec Hall as the G. C. Players made way for their three one-act spring productions. No Exit, The Sandbox, and The Chairs brought a new outlook on drama to the campus.

Umbrellas, cream-colored rain-coats, flooded sidewalks and damp shoes are always reminiscent of a rain-drenched April. Between the dampness were sandwiched warm sunny days where the best place to study and never get your work done was under a big oak on front campus. Somehow the flowering dogwoods, budding poplars, the fresh smell of new grass, and the steady patter of the fountain tend to distract . . . Elections . . . speeches . . . posters . . . ideals and ballot boxes challenge those selected to live up to '65 and improve '66. It was the month of baseball and informal picnics at noon with bookstore lunches which always seemed better outside. There were even some co-eds who started their own spring training in dormitory halls when they realized that winter was a weighty season and the loose shift would not be in style forever.

A few moments of companionship under a cherry tree . . .
dreams of June weddings . . . a desolate lamppost beside a well-lit dormitory . . . and the moments when study could always be put aside for a rhythmic song. Even the fondest memories become insignificant with the realization that
"the best is yet to come".

May means May Day . . . which means combos, folk-singing, outdoor dinners and a romantic formal evening where colored lights illuminate a night-time fountain, and an orchestra plays for a newly crowned queen. Somehow things are cleaner in May . . . the fountain is actually blue on the bottom; the men's dorm is actually neat for open house. Lea Center is always at its best, and even Hudson and Fitz look almost uncondemned. This is the specialness of the best-loved tradition at G. C. . . . May Day Weekend.

All too soon, May rushes towards the inevitability of exams, and a usually contented campus becomes aware again of the academic world. Now the midnight coffee begins, with cigarette burns on well-fingered notes and empty Coke bottles on the floor. A mass tutorial system begins — and ends with the purchase of blue books. The seniors suddenly realize that graduation, invitations, and caps and gowns must take the place of pressure let off after exams. Somehow the sheet of neatly lettered parchment seems an immeasurably small exchange for four years of maturation. Yes, it's an old institution, with problems which can only be solved by dedication to a finer learning. For those who must leave, the College will become a beloved memory. For those who care to return — who have imagination, courage, strength, and optimism:

"The woods are lovely, dark and deep.
But we have promises to keep,
And miles to go before we sleep,
And miles to go before we sleep."

—Robert Frost

Not Venus, Aphrodite, or even Miss America,
Their beauty is even more apparent—
For they are a part of the College,
And in the eyes of all who know them are
“The most beautiful girls in the world.”

MISS ECHO

MISS TRISHA YOUNT

With her expressive brown eyes and striking good looks, it isn't surprising that Trisha Yount received PLAYBOY Editor Hugh M. Hefner's nod of approval as Miss Echo for 1965.

A sophomore art major from Burlington, North Carolina, Trisha is interested in water skiing as well as drawing and painting. She is also a member of the Iota Lambda Sigma (Irving) Society and appeared in the Spring Fashion Show.

Little known and rarely recognized,
Our advertisers, though few in number,
Represent the innumerable establishments which,
Through their support and cooperation,
Make some contribution to the College.
